

Free phone services

2008-01-18 13:53:53 by kguske

Live in Peoria, but want a local phone number in Chicago? Constantly changing phone numbers, and tired of losing contact with your clients and friends?

Check out GrandCentral.

Recently acquired by Google, Grand Central provides a phone number that rings all your phones, digital voicemail, and a number of other features - free. GrandCentral allows you to:

- Screen calls
- Record calls
- Block calls
- Receive voicemail notifications by email
- Accept calls from the Internet without publishing your number
- Switch phones during a call
- Click to call numbers in your address book from a phone with your Grand Central caller ID

It's currently in Beta test mode - which means that Google may decide to charge for some or all of these features in the future. In the mean time, it may be worth checking out.

<http://freesoftwarereviews.org/modules.php?name=News&file=article&sid=11>